Questions and Answers

Q. Who pays higher interest, a bank or a Savings & Loan?

A. A Savings & Loan pays higher interest than a bank. The rates are set by the federal government.

Q. Which is the largest Savings & Loan in this part of Virginia?

A. First Federal. Assets over $65 million.

Q. Is my money safer in a Savings & Loan or in a bank?

A. There's no difference. Every savings account in a Savings & Loan and in a bank is insured up to $20,000.

Q. Which Savings & Loan has the most branches in Lynchburg?

A. First Federal. With offices at Tenth and Main, Pittman Plaza, Rivermont, and Waterlick Plaza.

Q. Can you always get your money out of a Savings & Loan?

A. Always. Whenever you need it.

Q. Which is our fastest growing Savings & Loan?

A. First Federal. Although they are not the oldest, they passed the others about five years ago.

Q. Why do banks say they pay "the highest interest allowed by law" - if First Federal pays higher?

A. Usually somewhere, those bank ads explain they are talking only about bank interest rates, not all interest rates. Apparently they believe that everyone knows a Savings & Loan is allowed by law to pay you more than a bank.

Q. Where can I really get the highest interest allowed by law?

A.

Facts about the great interest rate war.

No matter what you may read about bank interest rates, keep this one clear fact in mind: No bank anywhere is paying more than Fidelity. And most are actually paying less than Fidelity on popular 2-year, automatically renewable 5 3/4% Certificates of Deposit. Here's why:

Fidelity compounds your interest continuously, not just daily. So the annual yield to you is more than 6%. It's 6.00315 to be exact.

So in the midst of all the current noise and confusion, just remember this one beautifully simple fact:

Our 6% annual yield on 5 3/4% Certificates of Deposit is bigger than their 6%.

And that is a fact!
